INVESTMENT THESIS

Touchy aims to replace the cumbersome, analog workflows of consumers with a seamless, AI-driven personal assistant that integrates with their digital and physical environments [2].

TEAM Reported team size is 3, but no further details on execution capabilities or relevant experience are disclosed [1].	PRODUCT The product is an AI voice assistant designed to understand and act upon the user's environment, integrating with over 1,000 apps [1]. However, the product is still in public beta, and specific use cases or customer testimonials are not provided [2].
MARKET The market is broadly defined as consumers, but specific ICP, market size, or distribution strategy is not disclosed [2].	WHY NOW The thesis suggests that by 2029, the cost of running advanced AI will be low, making it feasible for widespread consumer adoption [2]. However, this is a future-looking claim without current market validation.
